Sep 7, 2021 Updated Sep 7, 2021

"Ledgestone possesses all of the expertise to build luxury master-planned communities under one roof from start to finish"

AUSTIN, Sept. 7, 2021 -- Legacy Development Construction Services (DCS), owned by Cass and Carrie Brewer, today announced a new division called Ledgestone Development Group (LDG) that will focus solely on development and serves as a single resource for navigating the many variables associated with real estate development acquisitions, construction, design, financing, operations and management.

Ledgestone will operate as the parent company to Legacy DCS LLC, Legacy Multi-Family Home Construction Services (MCS) LLC and Brewer Design Studio LLC. Legacy DCS, while holding true to its core values, has always focused on building luxury Peak Performance Lifestyle Homes™ staying on top of innovation. Legacy MCS is a commercial multifamily contractor that provides construction management from single-family rentals to the most demanding projects that involve complicated podium or wrap type construction projects. Brewer Design Solutions offers thoughtful design for all Ledgestone managed communities from conception to completion.

The foundation of Ledgestone is its focus on lifestyle that respects its surroundings and creates a place that people want to call home. Ledgestone is committed to sustainable planning and innovative ideas while always respecting the genetics and story of the land and its surrounding. As part of the launch, Ledgestone has opened the doors to its new headquarters located at 3101 Bee Cave Road, Suite 305, Austin, TX 78746.

Offering all services in-house, Ledgestone will operate as the development arm that will usher projects from development to design to construction. The rebranding launch and new location are representative of the tremendous growth and momentum that the company has recently undergone with emerging plans for several major new developments in the Texas market and making the INC. 5000 list coming in at 888 in the United States.

With a number of Fortune 500 companies opening offices in Austin, people are relocating to the area in search of job opportunities. Based in Austin, Ledgestone is uniquely positioned to meet the need for large-scale residential developments to accommodate the burgeoning market. According to the Texas Economic Development Corporation, Texas is the ninth largest economy in the world by GDP in 2021.

"Ledgestone is working with its expanding portfolio of partners to plan and prepare for the influx of population growth by building boutique master-planned residential communities in locations that are positioned to maximize the opportunities throughout Texas," said Cass Brewer, President of Ledgestone. "The communities that LDG builds are designed with high-end amenities and sustainable building practices, making them especially attractive to lifestyle buyers and empty nesters alike."
